Calling a NEW Pastor

First Steps: Calling a New Pastor

We are taking the first steps towards finding and bringing a minister to State College Presbyterian Church. One of my goals is to keep you informed about the process and our progress along the way. As we begin, I would like to share with you the steps involved in calling a new pastor. Just as we each possess different spiritual gifts and have developed particular skills; each ordained minister brings unique gifts and skills to pastoral service. Before the active search begins, we must clearly articulate what kind of pastoral leadership we will need from a Senior Pastor.

The Session has appointed a Pastor Visioning Team of seven members to discern and articulate the kind of pastoral leadership that God is calling into to ministry with us at this place and time. The members of the Pastor Visioning Team are Mitch Kirsch (Chair), Rob Hufford, Laura Essinger-Hileman, Jillian Rouns-ville, Cam Richardson, Katherine Allen, and Brady Wassom. This group will seek God's will in this matter by considering the vision for our ministry, the resources available, by listening to our staff, members, partners in ministry and neighbors, and through prayer and reflection on scripture. They will prepare and present a report describing the leadership that we will look for in a Senior Pastor.

The Pastor Visioning Team will present the report to the congregation for endorsement at a congregational meeting. The report will serve as the guide for an active search for a candidate that fits this description. Having completed their work, the Pastor Visioning Team will be dismissed with thanks and the responsibility for conducting the active search for the candidate will be entrusted to a Pastor Nominating Committee elected by the congregation.

The Pastor Nominating Committee will seek eligible candidates, review their profiles, observe them leading worship, and consider their experience. They will conduct interviews with a select number of candidates. The Presbytery will vet these candidates. They will select a candidate they believe God is calling to serve as the next Senior Pastor of State College Presbyterian Church and extend an invitation to formally seek election by the congregation to the position. The Pastor Nominating Committee will introduce the candidate to the congregation shortly before a worship service at which they will preach. Members will have the opportunity to confirm the selection of the Pastor Nominating Committee by electing the candidate at a congregational meeting held following the worship service.

I will be facilitating the work of the Pastor Visioning Team. I will support the Pastor Nominating Committee but will not be involved with the active search. One of our goals is to keep you informed about the process and our progress along the way. Please pray for the Pastoral Visioning Team and look for periodic articles in the PresbyPost and Weekly updates.

Congregational Meeting to Elect Officers

A Congregational Meeting has been called for Sunday, November 13 immediately after the 9:00 AM worship service (approximately 10:00 AM).

Update on the Betio Church

With the help of gifts from our members, the planning for the new sanctuary in Betio, on the island of Tarawa, Republic of Kiribati, in the Central Pacific, is now proceeding. Our gift came to $23,000 in Australian dollars which are used for their local currency. Lay leader Tabotabo Auatabu sent this update:

"Mauri (that is the greeting in their language) to our Brothers and Sisters in Christ in the Presbyterian Church, As always, we deeply appreciate the assistance for our church. I just want to give an update on what is happening on the ground.

1. Fence has been built by church members.
  2. Our Architect has recently met his counterpart in Australia who will be responsible for the completion of our design.
  3. Once the design is completed, probably before the end of the year, we will confirm the cost of materials which will be needed and before shipment of such.
  4. As advised from our designer, the chapel will be built with prefab materials.
- I will keep you posted on further progress.

Warmest regards,
Tabotabo

Membership Opportunity Nov. 13

SCPC will hold a membership opportunity on Sunday, November 13 at 10:15 AM (following worship) in the Martin Room. If you are interested in becoming a member of our church family, we invite you to join us! Pastor John Porter and a few Elders from our Session will be on hand to meet and greet you, learn a little about you, and receive you into membership if you wish. It is also a chance to learn more about SCPC and our programs, about being Presbyterian, and how you can get involved.

If you have questions or to get more information, contact

Martha Trout, Membership & Program Associate
(marthascpc@gmail.com or 814-238-2422).

We'd love to have you join us!

High School and College-Age Game Night

Our usual PSF gathering is expanding November 10th as we invite high school and young adults to band together for a game extravaganza! Join us 6:00-8:00 PM in the Fireside Room for games, dinner, and friendship. Let us know what games you're most excited to play and ask Reed or Allison if you want more details.

Investing in New Life: Pledge for 2023

Please make your pledge of financial support in 2023 today. Information about pledging is available through the church office or on our website. If you have not made a pledge in previous years, please consider doing so this year. Take this opportunity to make a uniquely significant investment in our ministry during this transition. We will dedicate pledges received during worship on November 20th

Candlelight Choir Rehearsals

Candlelight Choir rehearsals began on October 30, but there is still plenty of time to join us. Rehearsals are on Sunday evenings at 7:00 PM and will continue through November to December 4 with one final rehearsal on Saturday, December 10. The Christmas Candlelight Service will be Sunday, December 11, 4:00 PM.

This year's repertoire is a cantata - "What Sweeter Music" - of newly arranged Christmas carols.

All ages are invited -high school, college, YoPro, and beyond.

Hekima Place Trip

The conditions that caused last summer's trip to Hekima Place to be canceled have improved, so preliminary plans are being made for a trip in July 2023. A meeting will be held in early November to share information about the trip and to do some preliminary planning. Watch the Thursday updates for a date and time. If you have questions before the meeting, contact Mitch Kirsch (mitchkirsch57@gmail.com) or Cheryl Price (clprice73@gmail.com).

Stay and Play Advisory Team

The Stay & Play Advisory Team is seeking two new church members to join our board. The Advisory Team is made up of Stay & Play staff and parents, as well as church members. The goal of the Advisory Team is to maintain & update policies, as well as discuss and vote on important procedural and budgetary needs for the school. The Team meets via Zoom usually the second Monday of the month at 6:00 PM. Please contact Laura Seeley, Director of Stay & Play, if you would like to join and help make a difference for the school, our students, and our families we serve. Laura can be reached at 814-237-1154 or via email at StayandPlaySCPC@gmail.com. Thank you, and we look forward to hearing from you!

Looking for Virtual Greeters!

We are looking for people who are registered YouTube users who worship with us through YouTube Live on Sunday morning to welcome others who also worship with us through YouTube Live. We want to help everyone who worships with us to feel appreciated and engaged. Virtual greeters would sign in on Sunday morning and interact with others who sign into worship through the chat feature. If you are interested in helping us enhance the quality of our outreach to these important members of our community, please contact the church office.

Second Grade Bibles

What a joy it is to be able to give out a new Bible to our 2nd Grade children in our church.

On Sunday, October 16th, we handed out Bibles to Brady Cicero, Danny Dixon, and Fiona Woodruff.

If you have a 2nd Grader/3rd Grader that missed getting their Bible this time or last year, please let Deannine Shipman know. We want to make sure everyone gets one.

Again, congratulations to Brady, Danny, and Fiona!

The Christmas Candlelight Service

Its Theme and Variations

In December 1927, The State College Presbyterian Church Choir presented its first Candlelight Service. No program exists, no record of who took part. We know only that Harriet Holben was the director and Max Krumrine was the organist. It must have been an instant success, for within two years there were elaborate decorations, worked on by Hilda and Alice Thompson, members of one of our founding families.

Pew candelabra were installed in the middle of every other row of pews, totaling sixteen candelabra with five tapers each. Six freestanding candelabra were at the front of the sanctuary. Since dripless candles were not yet available, a massive clean-up of wax followed each service. This truly was a candlelight affair, offered as a late afternoon Christmas vesper service by a choir of fifteen members. It was soon to be enhanced by two large Christmas trees at the front of the sanctuary.

Four o'clock vesper services continued with the size of the choir reaching twenty-three in 1938. Music included cantatas, anthems, soloists and instrumentalists Organ, piano and violin selections appeared regularly. In 1939, the program began to be scheduled as an evening worship service. Anthems, carols, Scripture and prayer were embellished by newly gifted tower chimes. In 1941, the service took on added significance as war was declared and the church was funding a major building project. The twenty-five voice choir presented a varied program of trios, quartets and soloists in addition to their regular anthems.

The focus changed in the 1940's to include the youth choirs and the group was referred to as The Combined Choirs. This included thirty-two adults and thirty juniors. It was divided into a Men's Choir, a Girls' Choir and a Combined Choir. Still an evening service, it began to be broadcast in 1949, with a radio narrator and the senior high Westminster Fellowship reading Scripture. While some services were dedicated to former choir members, the 1950 service was given in honor of the five living charter members of the church.

A choir mother was appointed and a Cherub Choir formed as the program expanded. By 1954, there was a Church Choir, a Cherub Choir, a Women's Chorus, a Men's Chorus and a Girls' Choir. Needless to say, this proved a bit too much, and the next year there were no youth choirs due to a drastic cutback.

In 1959, a Crusader Choir of juniors appeared and became an integral part of the Candlelight Service. This choir presented a fifteen minute offering of carols prior to the service.

A Day of Thanksgiving and Praise

In 1863, Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of November a “day of Thanksgiving and Praise,” making annual an inconsistent national tradition. George Washington had issued two Thanksgiving proclamations, in 1789 and 1795; Thomas Jefferson zero. Some states had celebrated Thanksgiving, while others had not. Even the dates of celebration had differed.

Throughout the Civil War, the Union and Confederate States would use competing Thanksgiving proclamations to lift public morale. Many of the Thanksgiving sermons held by the Presbyterian Historical Society are pointed responses to such decrees. After the capture of Fort Sumter on April 13, 1863, the president and congress of the Confederate States declared June 13 a day of National Thanksgiving. In The Battle of Fort Sumter: a Discourse Preached on the Day of National Fasting, Thanksgiving and Prayer, the Reverend Thomas Smyth told the First Presbyterian Church of Charleston, SC, that, “On this occasion, we will restrict our argument, and your attention, to the glorious victory of Fort Sumter, considered, first, as a signal proof of the powerful providence of God; and, secondly, as a pledge and promise of God’s continued providence and protection over us.”

A month later, after another Confederate victory at Manassas, VA, and another declaration of Thanksgiving, the Reverend George D. Armstrong found more evidence of divine support for the Southern cause. In The Good Hand of God Upon Us: A Thanksgiving Sermon Preached on Occasion of the Victory of Manassas, July 21st, 1861, Armstrong told the Presbyterian Church in Norfolk, VA, that, “Through ‘the good hand of God upon us,’ in making mad our enemies, we stand this day a thoroughly united people, with none feeble of purpose in all our hosts; and the foul aspersion attempted to be cast upon our fair fame in calling us ‘covenant-breakers, traitors, rebels’ recoils upon its authors.” Militarily, the Confederate States dominated the first two years of the War. Only with the Union victories at Gettysburg and Vicksburg in 1863 did the Union cause seem the more likely to prevail. On August 6, Lincoln made his first declaration of a day of Thanksgiving for that year.

Northern Presbyterian ministers used the opportunity to rally a beleaguered people behind the Union cause. The Reverend Frederick T. Brown’s sermon Giving Thanks for Union Victories Preached in Bridge Street Presbyterian Church, Georgetown, D.C., is one conciliatory example. “Divided, made two, we are ruined,” claimed Rev. Brown, “and will be the scorn and contempt of the world. But, one, undivided, and united, we may fearlessly face the world, and go on in that career of progress in which we have started....till that one word American shall make the bad tremble and the good rejoice wherever spoken the world over.” The Civil War would end two years later, but the newly reunited nation would continue to celebrate Thanksgiving each fall, giving gratitude for what it has achieved in times of plenty and loss. In 1863, the songwriter William Muhlenberg wrote “The President’s Hymn: Give Thanks All Ye People.” Its words continue to capture the spirit of Thanksgiving today:

*Give Thanks all ye people, Give thanks to the lord,
Alleluias of freed, with joyful accord:
Let the East and the West, North and South roll along,
Sea, mountain and prairie, One thanksgiving song*

What a busy fall! Your generosity, and your willingness to step in with kindness means that State College Presbyterian Church has gifts and actions to celebrate, as well as upcoming opportunities.

Christmas Kindnesses

By the time you get this newsletter, we will have just finished collecting Christmas Cards to provide warm wishes to people who are incarcerated in Centre County. Many, many thanks to all who participated in this all-ages service opportunity! Centre Peace reports that these cards are sometimes the only mail a person receives all year, and they are deeply appreciated. Watch for it again next fall – and if you are interested in a similar, year-round ministry, drop Cricket a line at missionatscpc@gmail.com.

The Angel Tree will happen again this year, under the leadership of the Deacons. Watch the Weekly Update email – and the bridge – for details. The Social Justice and Mission Team is working with them to add angels that will help fund four nights of Christmastime housing for Out of the Cold at a local hotel. These nights provide some much-needed holiday respite for both clients and OOTC staff. 15 rooms are needed, at a cost of $30 per person ($60 per room) per night.

Prayers and relief for those afflicted by disaster. We know that many of you have been praying with us as we hear news of floods, hurricanes, earthquakes, and wildfires. Right at the end of September, in the wake of the flooding of our near-neighbors in Kentucky, the Social Justice and Mission Team disbursed $1500 from the Powers Fund to Presbyterian Disaster Assistance to respond. PDA maintains prayers for hard times, signups for newsletters, service opportunities, and a donation link at pda.pcusa.org.

The Peace and Global Witness Offering we supported portions funds to be used for peacemaking work locally, regionally, and farther afield. The Social Justice and Mission Team designated the Jana Marie Foundation to be the recipient of SJMT’s 2021 and 2022 collections. SJMT feels that the Jana Marie Foundation’s work to grow a more connected community, with more open dialogue, and more mental health resilience aligns beautifully with the goals of the Peace and Global Witness offering, and addresses concerns that currently add to the needs addressed by many of the agencies we already support, such as Out of the Cold, and CVIM. Explore at janamariefoundation.org

The mission of Jana Marie Foundation is to harness the power of dialogue and creative expression to spark conversations, build connections and promote the mental well-being among young people and their communities.

The CROP Walk supports our State College Area Food Bank as well as Church World Service’s food security efforts around the globe. In addition to this congregations’ prayers and shoe leather supported the walk, we raised about $2200. Walkers enjoyed a celebratory meal on the front lawn afterwards – also thanks to the Deacons. Watch the Weekly Update for a few photos and some totals!

We continue to receive occasional requests from community members. If you are downsizing, or clearing out your winter closet, check with the office to see if any of your items is currently needed.

New Member

Erielle Clark comes to us from LifePath Church in Houston Texas. She was born and raised in Houston and came to State College to attend Penn State University. In December 2020, she graduated with a degree from the College of Ag Science, then moved to the Richmond, VA area for her job as an Environmental Inspector for Dominion Due Diligence Group. When her job transitioned to being able to work remotely, she moved back to State College and has been here ever since. She is already active in SCPC's YoPro young adult group.

From the Financial Affairs Committee

Through September 2022, we are slightly under target for our annual budget; thank you to everyone who has continued to give so generously and we are confident we will hit our budget goal through the end of December 2022. Statements through September 2022 have been mailed out; if you do not receive yours or have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to Michelle (finadmscpc@gmail.com) or Anne (annespc@gmail.com) or call the office (814-238-2242 x207).

Online Giving

We continue to see a large number of members using our online giving link and we hope people find this an easy way to give and easy system to use. If you have set up a recurring contribution that includes Restoring God's House, CROP Walk 2022 or Peace & Global Witness 2022, please feel free to go in and remove those funds from your ongoing contribution. Those funds are limited time funds but we will certainly get any contributions received in future months to the right place.

Also a reminder that the LOGOS Program Fees and FISH Program Fees lines in online giving are ONLY for program fees and are not tax deductible. If you would like to make a general contribution to support these programs (or any other!), please use the Other Gifts line and specify the program in the memo line.

ACH

Interested in automating your giving but don't want to use our Online Giving system? We also offer an ACH Direct Debit option. You provide us with your banking account information and we will initiate a withdrawal on the dates and for the amounts you specify.

Adult Opportunities in November

All Sundays: Connect, Room 10, led by Bizz and Zack Maser, and Jamie Bauman

Connect is an invitation to deepen your relationship with others and with God by contemplating scripture, lyrics, writing, poetry, and other topics of interest through small group discussions. This is meant to be a time to sit with questions without needing the answers, speak from the heart, pray, meditate, reflect, and be changed by the stories and sharing of others. Anyone with a desire to Connect more deeply, whether you are a believer or unsure what you believe, is invited to join us. Come as you are to listen, share, grow, and be!

November 6, Westminster Hall. Planned Giving, led by Jason Stimmel

Planned Giving (sometimes called Gift Planning or Legacy Giving) enables people to create a legacy. There are many ways to include charitable gifts in your estate and financial plans. Come with your questions as you consider how you can support the church for future generations.

November 13, Westminster Hall. It's the right time for a move, but how will I get there? led by Bridget Donnelly

For the past 13 years, Bridget, and her husband Bill have been helping older adults cope with the stresses of downsizing, moving and dealing with too much stuff. Whether you're planning to move or downsizing in place, come listen to the issues, ideas and inspirations that Bridget shares for your next chapter.

November 20, Westminster Hall. Small Island, Big Song, Part 1

Motivated by the 5th Intergovernment Panel on Climate Change report, Taiwanese producer BaoBao Chen and Australian music producer/filmmaker Tim Cole spent three years visiting artists on their homelands in the Pacific and Indian Oceans, recording with their guidance in nature, sharing songs from island to island. We will watch and discuss the first half of their film.

November 27, Westminster Hall. Small Island, Big Song, Part 2

Continuing from the previous week, we will watch and discuss the second half of the film "Small Island, Big Song" about the cultural connections across islands of the Pacific and Indian Oceans.
